“Motivates you and touches your soul. He inspires audiences with heartfelt storytelling and sharing his triumphs in the face of unimaginable adversity.”

At age 8, Todd was accidentally shot and instantly paralyzed from the shoulders down. He was hospitalized for over a year, and in his recovery process he had to learn how to breathe, talk, dress, eat, sit-up straight – all over again. Todd's life was forever changed that day, but he didn't settle for being just a statistic. He made a decision to embrace his life with excitement, enthusiasm, gratitude, and dreaming big. Todd's resiliency to create quality in his story is both amazing to hear and ignites a change within your own story.

OVERCOME - CONNECT - SHARE - ENLIGHTEN

Todd has a worldview shaped by his monumental life challenges, he expresses it as: “We cannot live in the past or in the future. Our gift is today and we get to make the most of it!”

He embraces life – where many of us who have full use of our extremities handicap ourselves and our dreams with apathy and self doubt, Todd doesn't waste a moment – grateful for the talents and gifts he's been blessed with, he makes the most of each day and strives for his dreams. He speaks publicly to groups large and small telling his story and inspiring them to make the most of their own life, to love freely, to give deeply, and to forgive others as well as themselves.

Todd thrives professionally and personally and shows us all how deeply we can touch those around us by reaching out, opening our hearts and sharing our story.
